My World Is Upside Down

Immerse yourself in a music documentary based on an artist with serious brain damage called a sense of reason. The film is based on the character and work of the Slovenian artist Frane Milčinski - Ježek. Musical documentary My World is Upside Down by Petra Seliškar is a combination of live performances by leading alternative musicians around the world playing Ježek's songs and his amazing archive material from the 1960s to the 1980s. He was a unique phenomenon, a popular actor, a timely writer, and a performer.

His satirical songs and songs from the 1950s and 60s are covered by musicians such as Kimmo Pohjonen, legendary Croatian singer Josipa Lisac, Hugo Race (former member of Nick Cave's band The Bad Seeds) and the legendary Slovenian singer/songwriter Tomaz Pengov. In this way, they create a touching and inspirational story that leads us from birth (Ježek's song Mother Sea), childhood (For the Naughty Children), romance (Simple Love performed by Chris Eckman), challenges and joy of youth by John Parish (A Glass of Wine), the loss (E Lon La Ler, sung by Cesare Basile and composed by John Bonnar from Dead Can Dance), protest against authority (A Prisoner's Ode to the Bedbug) performed by the Croatian super-star Josipa Lisac and Darwin Was Wrong by punk band Bernays Propaganda, to the inevitable end (Marcia Funebre, performed by Teresa Salgueiro from Madredeus).

The soundtrack was produced and by an indie rock icon, Chris Eckman (The Walkabouts), and was expertly interwoven with archive footage of Ježek's performances and sketches. The cover design is the work of Samir Karahasan. Mastering for vinyl was made by Petar Dundov. It's a joint release between Restart, Zavod Petra Pan (Slovenia), PPFP (Macedonia) and PDV Records.
